Wildlife Protection and Conservation

About this course

Our Wildlife Protection and Conservation course is designed for anyone with a passion for protecting wildlife and conserving natural ecosystems. This course will provide you with the knowledge and insight necessary to understand the challenges facing wildlife today and the actions required to address them.

The course explores wildlife crime, conservation law, enforcement, community involvement, and career opportunities in the sector. Students will learn to identify threats, support anti-poaching efforts, and make meaningful contributions to conservation in the field and beyond.

Through real-world examples and practical guidance, it highlights how to balance ecological needs with human interests, the value of biodiversity, and the importance of collaboration across sectors. This course is suitable for a global audience. It provides a solid foundation for further training or involvement in wildlife protection work.
